

Extension Engagement Letter with Norma's Tax Service For Filing Federal and State Personal Tax Extensions

Thank you for choosing Norma's Tax Service to assist you in filing your 2018 personal tax extension to the federal and state governments. This letter confirms the terms for engaging with you to e-file these extensions.

The 2018 personal income tax returns are due Monday, April 15, 2019. By filing an extension, you are requesting an additional six-months to file your 2018 federal and state(s) tax returns. The deadline for filing your tax return after it has been extended is Tuesday, October 15, 2019.

This is an extension to delay filing the federal and state tax returns for tax year 2018 only. This is NOT an extension to delay paying any amount owed.

Because we have not prepared your taxes yet, you alone will be responsible for determining whether you owe taxes or are entitled to a tax refund. The IRS will hold you accountable for the calculations provided with this extension. If you underestimate the balance due and pay less now than the end result, you will be charged interest and an underpayment penalty on the remaining balance. If you overestimate the tax liability, you will receive the refund after your return is completed.

Our engagement to prepare your 2018 tax extensions will conclude with the submittal of your electronically filed federal and state(s) tax extension. We can also print vouchers for you to send any payment to the IRS to pay your balance due.

Your signature will affirm that this letter correctly summarizes your understanding of the arrangement for this work, please sign this letter in the space indicated below.
